

Round Table Placemat Template

This Winner Designs No Slip Template makes creating place mats so much faster and better because the cutting is so much easier! Although the template shape was designed to fit better than traditional place mats on round tables, it works well on any style table!

A bit about the No Slip Backing: The beauty of the No Slip Backing is that it makes cutting more accurate (and faster and easier!) so you'll get better cutting results which leads to better (and easier!) sewing results.

It also means that you can do your project just as you normally would. So... all of those great YouTube videos plus all those techniques, tips and tricks that you've seen online will most likely work with my templates, too~

As for the place mat, use the template to cut your fabrics then stitch up any way you like. You can do a simple right sides together stitch, turn and top stitch (as we'll do here). Or make them a little fancier by adding piping or decorative elements. Or do a Quilt As You Go or scrappy top. Have left over quilt blocks? Use them for your place mats. Make one side Valentine and the other Easter!

Template is 14" tall x 16 3/8" Wide. You'll need a front, a back and an Inner a bit larger. Use quilting cotton, home dec or even laminated fabrics for a quick wipe. Choose your favorite inner material - Fusible Fleece, batting, SF101, Décor Bond, etc. You'll get a different look and feel so try out to find your favorite!

Materials:

Round Table Place Mat Template

Rotary Cutter, Mat

Basic Sewing Supplies

Cotton or Home Dec Fabric for Front, Back

Pinking Sheers (optional)

Precision Scissors

Interfacing - SF101, Fusible Fleece, Batting, etc.

Choose your Inner Material	Creating a Sandwich	Cutting the Fabrics
You can use a layer of batting or fleece or an Iron On Fusible Batting, Fleece or SF101. If fusing, fuse to your fabric(s) first.	Place front and back fabrics right sides together. If using a batting or non-fusible, place that on the bottom.	Place template on top of your layers and carefully cut out all layers at once. If you're not comfortable with a rotary cutter you can cut fabrics separately from inner if used.
Pin or Clip	At the Machine	Trim, Pink or Clip
Align all layers with the edges even and pin or clip.	Starting just past the middle of the shortest side, backstitch then stitch all around your placemat stopping a few inches from where you began. Backstitch.	Use pinking sheers, pink around your edges. Or use sharp scissors and trim around and snip at the curves.
Turn and Press	Top Stitch	Make More!
Turn right sides out and "fenagle" into shape. Press well, ensuring the opening area is nicely tucked in and pressed.	Starting at the opening, topstitch all around the place mat. You can stitch close to the edge and stop or stitch around again with a much wider seam allowance (as in the striped place mats seen in the pics).	Now, make 3 more exactly the same, set your table and invite friends over! Tell them to bring some goodies or order some Take Out~

Forks to be Reckoned with is a Tea Towel Project. It was barely large enough so I un-stitched the sewn edges to be able to have as much fabric as possible to cut!
